

Good morning, Palm Class!

I hope you can hear me, I was in the middle of a cycle so I thought I'd stop here and just send you a little message to let you know that all of the teachers at Red Oaks, myself especially included, are missing you dreadfully. We're missing the time we have in class together and all of the learning we had going on before all of this happened. I know I've messaged you all recently but I just wanted to let you know again how proud I am of all of you and to thank you for all of the hard work that you're doing. You've shown amazing work ethic every day; it's amazing to see the work on Dojo but obviously don't worry if you haven't got time to post on there, I know you're working super hard because we have spent so much time together and I know your work ethic. I know sometimes the work can be tricky because you may not have all of the same resources and a lot of the work we send home may be on the iPads but just keep doing what you're doing; we're super duper proud of you. I can't wait to get back in the classroom! Maybe we won't have any fist bumps or high fives but we can have some social distancing high fives and we will let you know when it's time to go back. For now, just keep doing what you're doing and, again I keep saying it (I'm like a broken record) but I'm so proud of how hard you're all working. Look at the state of my hair... Right, I'll let you get back to your day now. Stay safe, keep working hard and I can't wait to get back to learning in the classroom.
